PROFILE

I am a motivated and detail-oriented Software Development graduate and aspiring IT professional with a strong interest in application development, technical support, and cybersecurity. I hold a Diploma in Software Development and a Cisco CyberOps Associate certification, and a Advanced Diploma in Application Development. I have hands-on experience working with web and desktop applications, cloud technologies, and troubleshooting technical issues. I am seeking an opportunity where I can contribute my technical skills, continue learning, and add real value to a forward-thinking organisation.
